1. Take advantage of the FastPass+ system.

FastPass+ is a free service that allows you to reserve a time to ride popular attractions. This can save you hours of waiting in line. To use FastPass+, you'll need to create a My Disney Experience account and link it to your park tickets. Once you've done that, you can start making FastPass+ reservations 60 days in advance for on-site resort guests or 30 days in advance for other guests.

2. Arrive early or stay late.

The parks are typically less crowded in the morning and evening hours. If you can, try to arrive at the park when it opens or stay until it closes. You'll be able to experience more attractions with shorter wait times.

3. Take breaks.

It's important to take breaks throughout the day, especially if you're not used to spending long hours on your feet. There are plenty of places to sit down and relax in the parks. You can also take advantage of the free transportation system to get around. This can help you save your energy for the attractions you really want to experience.

4. Explore the other attractions.

There are plenty of other things to do at Walt Disney World besides ride rides. You can meet characters, watch parades and fireworks, and explore the many different shops and restaurants. There's something for everyone at Walt Disney World.

5. Don't be afraid to ask for help.

If you're feeling overwhelmed, don't be afraid to ask a cast member for help. They're there to make your experience as enjoyable as possible. They can help you find your way around, make FastPass+ reservations, or recommend attractions that are right for you.

Walt Disney World is a magical place that can be enjoyed by people of all ages. If you don't want to spend your entire vacation waiting in line for rides, there are plenty of other ways to have fun. By following these tips, you can enjoy all that Walt Disney World has to offer without the stress.

Additional tips

- Consider purchasing a Park Hopper pass. This will allow you to visit multiple parks in the same day. This can be a good way to experience more attractions without having to wait in line for each one.
- Take advantage of the single rider line. This line is typically shorter than the regular line and is available for many popular attractions. However, you may not be able to ride with your friends or family if you use this line.
- Use the My Disney Experience app. This app can help you plan your trip, make FastPass+ reservations, and find your way around the parks. It's a great way to stay organized and make the most of your time at Walt Disney World.
